Lem: A measurement unit to classify a sustainable AI

A sustainable AI should use exactly 1,5 watts per hour, like the human brain, this measure could improve our ecosystems from the Earth to Mars.

In terms of Ken Wilber's AQAL transdisciplinary method, this is a right quadrant action in a Green V Meme paradigm with a Yellow Meme-compatible approach.

Kunoichi Sakamoto
Creative Commons - By